

Leadership Profile

SENIOR VICE PRESIDENT FOR STUDENT AFFAIRS

This leadership profile is intended to provide information and assist qualified individuals in assessing their interest in Chapman University and the position of Senior Vice President for Student Affairs.

The Search

SENIOR VICE PRESIDENT FOR STUDENT AFFAIRS

Chapman University, a mid-sized, student-centered private research university with campuses in Orange and Irvine, California, seeks an experienced, collaborative, and forward-thinking strategic leader to serve as its next Senior Vice President for Student Affairs (SVPSA).

The SVPSA will guide an accomplished and talented student affairs division during a period of exciting institutional momentum and evolution. This role provides strategic leadership and vision with a focus on deepening Chapman's welcoming campus culture and its approach to personalized education that provides robust academic and co-curricular offerings. With a steadfast commitment to supporting students' learning, development, and well-being, this leader will cultivate strong partnerships across the university and within Student Affairs, enhance the student experience, and foster a culture in the Student Affairs organization grounded in trust, empathy, innovation, holistic support, and operational excellence. A member of Chapman's Senior Staff (President's cabinet), the SVPSA will be a visible leader on highly engaged campuses focused on providing a transformational experience to students and the student affairs perspective and context to senior leadership to inform sound decision-making.

About Chapman

Founded in 1861, Chapman combines the resources of a research institution with the scale of a mid-sized, student-centered university. Chapman University enrolls approximately 9,700 students, including about 7,700 undergraduates and 2,000 graduate students. The university's picturesque Orange campus is located steps from restaurants, coffee shops, and boutiques; just 15 miles from the beach; and 30 miles from Los Angeles' business and cultural hubs. The Rinker Health Science campus in nearby Irvine is home to the university's health science graduate programs and is strategically located in a hub of pharmaceutical and medical device industry.

Supported by an endowment that just exceeded $1 billion – one of the fastest-growing in the country and two-thirds of which supports student scholarships – Chapman continues to fulfill its mission of providing personalized education of distinction that prepares students for inquiring, ethical, and productive lives as global citizens.

The university offers a broad portfolio of undergraduate, master's, and doctoral degree programs across the arts, business, education, health sciences, humanities, and more. Chapman is categorized by the Carnegie Classification as an R2 "high research activity" institution. With a focus on experiential learning, Chapman prioritizes hands-on experience for students, who learn directly from distinguished, world-renowned faculty, including recipients of the Nobel Prize, National Medal of Science, and Academy Awards. The university has produced a Rhodes Scholar and been named a top producer of Fulbright Scholars. It hosts a chapter of Phi Beta Kappa, the nation's oldest and most prestigious honor society. The university also has the support of its global alumni network of nearly 60,000. The university's momentum is reflected in its rise in the national rankings, recently achieving its best-ever ranking in U.S. News & World Report, rising nearly 10% year over year.

About Chapman

Student life at Chapman University is shaped by the institution's commitment to providing personalized education within highly engaged campuses. Chapman's students enjoy learning in a close-knit, student-focused community, where faculty and staff members know students by name, and the community is often referred to as the Chapman Family. Chapman's academic and co-curricular experiences are intentionally connected and support this vibrant community of scholarship, leadership, and student involvement. Residential life plays a central role in the undergraduate experience, as living on campus is required for three years. Students on both campuses also benefit from Chapman's many small, discussion-based classes, which foster a collaborative academic environment and enduring faculty connections. A 12:1 student-to-faculty ratio supports close faculty engagement and personalized learning within this extraordinarily welcoming community. Students are supported by state-of-the-art facilities, including the Keck Center for Science and Engineering and the Rinker Health Science Campus, which features advanced labs and research spaces. Chapman students participate in more than 200 student organizations and 23 NCAA Division III athletic teams. Recreation programs, cultural events, and student-led programming help students develop meaningful relationships, explore interests, and participate fully in university life. In a given academic year, students have exposure to numerous prominent guest speakers – recently ranging from Nobel Laureate Nadia Murad to former California Governor Arnold Schwarzenegger to several world class artists, including Ariana Grande, Angela Bassett, and Dwayne “The Rock” Johnson, to name only a few; to recent film screenings; to student and professional performances at the world-class Musco Center for the Arts; to a Winterfest celebration that brings holiday cheer and snow to the Orange campus; and to first-class career fairs that draw hundreds of top employers, including several Fortune 100 companies. First-year students have unique and memorable experiences that begin during orientation and delve into the important traditions surrounding the university's fenestra and four pillars symbolism.

Learn more about Chapman's recent State of the University Address and visit chapman.edu to explore the university, its history, and culture.

About This Moment

The SVPSA will join Chapman at a unique and exciting time as a bold new leadership team forms in support of President Matt Parlow to continue the university's strong momentum and advance the personalization and special sense of place that distinguishes the Chapman experience. This is a deeply collaborative leadership team that values student success, excellence, and innovative ideas and approaches – and enjoys rolling up their sleeves and working with one another.

Over the years, Chapman has experienced rare strength and continuity in leadership, including in Student Affairs, where the soon-to-retire and beloved SVPSA has spent the last 18-plus years building a strong and a trusted relationship with the student body, which considers Student Affairs a key and active support to their campus experience from beginning to end.

The incoming SVPSA will cultivate strong partnerships and foster continued integration within Student Affairs and between Student Affairs and other academic and administrative stakeholders across the university in support of all students – undergraduate, graduate, and professional students – during a time of impressive institutional and financial strength and growth. They will approach the role with an institution-wide perspective, thinking beyond divisional priorities to advance the university's broader mission and strategic goals. By possessing strong administrative and operational acumen and being a skilled systems thinker, collaborator, and innovator, the SVPSA will strategically orchestrate their teams, programs, spaces, technology, and services to support students from the time they commit to Chapman through graduation, fostering highly engaged alumni. The role requires a seasoned student affairs leader with the judgment and experience to proactively lead through crises, encourage free expression and constructive dialogues, evolve organizational structures to best promote the student experience, and translate strategy into effective implementation for co-curricular and institutional excellence.

Leadership

Matt Parlow has served as Chapman University's 14th president since September 2, 2025, and holds the Donald Bren Presidential Chair in Law. Over his 12 years at Chapman, Parlow has played a pivotal role in propelling the institution toward national prominence as both an administrator and a scholar. As Executive Vice President, Chief Advancement Officer (EVP/CAO), and Parker S. Kennedy Chair in Law, he drove transformational growth while leading the historic fundraising initiative Inspire:

The Campaign for Chapman University. This campaign seeks to raise $500 million by 2028 and grow the university's endowment to $2 billion by 2037. Under his leadership, Chapman surpassed $400 million—well ahead of schedule—providing resources that strengthen academic excellence, support student success, and deepen community engagement.

An innovative leader with a strong sense of community, Parlow brings an ambitious vision for Chapman's future. Under his direction, the university is poised to reach new academic heights by fostering expansive interdisciplinary collaborations that push the boundaries of knowledge and innovation, while preparing students for success in a rapidly evolving workforce.

Deeply committed to the student experience, he will promote robust engagement between students, faculty, and the broader community, ensuring Chapman continues to provide the distinctive, hands-on learning opportunities that set the university

“At Chapman, we have incredible students, and our job is to maximize their experience, enhance their opportunities in and out of the classroom, and help them learn together and continually grow to become productive citizens who contribute to our world.”

President Matt Parlow

apart. As the need for civil discourse grows nationwide, Parlow is also dedicated to making Chapman a place where challenging conversations are embraced and free expression is protected. This commitment to free speech, academic excellence, and community is emblematic of Parlow's strong belief in the power of education as a force for good.

Before serving as EVP/CAO, Parlow was the Dean and Donald P. Kennedy Chair in Law at the Dale E. Fowler School of Law. As the school's second-longest-serving dean, he achieved financial stability, welcomed some of the strongest incoming classes in its history, and oversaw three consecutive years of record graduate employment. His leadership elevated the school's U.S. News & World Report ranking by more than 20 spots. At the same time, his fundraising established new professorships and expanded key curricular areas that foster innovation and student achievement.

Parlow's career in higher education also includes serving as Associate Dean for Academic Affairs and Professor of Law at Marquette University Law School.

Before his academic career, Parlow was an associate with the Los Angeles firm of Manatt, Phelps & Phillips, LLP and served as a law clerk for the Honorable Pamela Ann Rymer of the United States Court of Appeals for the Ninth Circuit. Parlow holds a J.D. from Yale Law School and a B.A., magna cum laude, in History from Loyola Marymount University.

Leadership

A seasoned higher education leader with a background in administration and student affairs, Amy Rogan-Mehta is the Executive Vice President and the Chief of Staff at Chapman University. In her role, Amy serves as a chief advisor to the President and oversees a broad portfolio of units that contribute to Chapman’s strategic direction, student experience, and external visibility, including Admission and Student Affairs. In addition, Amy facilitates collaboration and alignment across Chapman’s schools and departments to achieve institutional vision and goals; helps to lead board relations with the Board of Trustees, Board of Governors, and the President’s Cabinet; and serves as a liaison to various committees of the Board of Trustees. She also recently led the presidential transition and chaired the Presidential Transition Advisory Committee.

Throughout her career, Amy has led her teams to unprecedented success. As Senior Vice President of University Advancement at Chapman, she helped the division reach new heights, including recruiting a record number of employers to interview students for jobs in back-to-back years, engaging a record number of alumni with Chapman, and consistently closing each year under budget. In addition, Amy has played an instrumental role in raising more than $400 million toward Chapman’s $500 million comprehensive campaign goal.

“When we help students identify their strengths and explore possibilities, we can help them build confidence and momentum. ... I also saw firsthand the power of mentorship. That’s something we can do for students here every day—help them see their potential and imagine a future they may not yet be able to picture on their own.”

*Amy Rogan-Mehta
Executive Vice President and the Chief of Staff*

Before joining University Advancement, Amy served as Associate Dean for Administration at Chapman’s Dale E. Fowler School of Law, where she supervised the entire administration, including student affairs, career services, operations, admissions, marketing, and events. During her time there, the Fowler School of Law matriculated the strongest classes in the history of the school, while also setting back-to-back records in graduate employment. In addition, Amy led efforts to build a culture of engagement and volunteerism—especially through the creation of the Center for Student Engagement.

Prior to joining Chapman, Amy served as Associate Dean for Student Development at Marquette University Law School. Amy is a licensed attorney and previously practiced at the Milwaukee firm of Reinhart Boerner Van Deuren s.c. Earlier in her career, Amy worked as a social worker and therapist in health care and social service organizations.

Amy holds a Bachelor of Science in social work, cum laude, from Saint Catherine University, a Master of Science in social work from Columbia University, and a J.D. from Marquette University Law School, where she graduated first in her class.

Student Affairs at Chapman University

Student Affairs at Chapman University is the lynchpin of Chapman's mission to provide its students with an educational experience marked by academic excellence and personal and professional skill building, with the aim of transforming them into global citizens. To this end, Student Affairs provides a broad portfolio of programs, spaces, and services that support students' classroom learning and development, well-being, and engagement in a wide variety of activities outside the classroom. Led by the Senior Vice President for Student Affairs, the division's departments work with students to make choices that put them in a position to perform well academically and thrive socially, through to graduation, including promoting their health and well-being; getting academic and personal help and support when they need it; developing personal values and ethical frameworks; engaging in critical thinking; developing and sustaining meaningful relationships; valuing and respecting differences; and learning to speak and engage with other civilly and collegially while discussing difficult topics, among other aims. Student Affairs recognizes that the educational journey can pose challenges and coordinates internally and with campus partners to address student concerns holistically. The work of the division is characterized by highly visible and approachable staff who engage in face-to-face interactions and create relationships built on a foundation of transparency and care, garnering students' respect and confidence. Student Affairs is comprised of approximately 80 full-time team members and nearly 350 part-time student employees and interns.

The departments in Student Affairs are:

- Dean of Students Office
- Disability Services
- First-Generation & Promising Futures Programs
- Fish Interfaith Center
- PEER & Health Education
- Residence Life & First-Year Experience
- Student Conduct
- Student Engagement
- Student Health Center
- Student Psychological Counseling Services
- Student Support and Outreach
- Title IX Coordinator and Anti-Discrimination Resource

Historically, the Senior Vice President for Student Affairs also served as the Dean of Students. To respond to Chapman's growth in resources and student support, the Dean of Students now has been combined with a Vice President position, which reports directly to the Senior Vice President, allowing the SVPSA to devote greater attention to advancing the vision and priorities of Student Affairs, strengthening partnerships across the institution, driving excellence across all areas of Student Affairs, and contributing to university-wide planning and decision-making. At the same time, the Dean of Students provides focused leadership for the day-to-day student support functions and certain programs within the division. As Student Affairs at Chapman continues to evolve, both roles will work in concert to support a comprehensive, integrated network of student care and support, and to co-create and lead an effective organizational structure.

Role of the Senior Vice President for Student Affairs

The SVPSA provides strategic and operational leadership, policy development, and administrative oversight for Student Affairs, ensuring internal and external efficiency and collaboration, so that the division's work advances students' needs, well-being, success, and sense of community.

The SVPSA reports to the Executive Vice President and Chief of Staff and works closely with the entire leadership team at Chapman. The SVPSA also serves as a trusted thought partner on matters affecting institutional reputation, risk, legal considerations, and public affairs.

The SVPSA is tasked with identifying areas of strength and continuity, as well as opportunities for improving collaboration and services, to help promote Chapman's goal to attract a top-notch national and international student body and provide them a hands-on, transformative educational experience. As a champion for student success, the SVPSA represents Student Affairs both internally and externally and works closely with senior leaders to enhance student learning, support, engagement, and overall success.

THE SVPSA WILL SUPERVISE 8 DIRECT REPORTS WHO ARE:

- the Vice President & Dean of Students;
- Vice President of First-Generation & Promising Futures Programs;
- Assistant Vice President for Student Affairs & Associate Dean of Students;
- Assistant Dean of Students & Director of Residence Life & First Year Experience;
- the Executive Director of the Fish Interfaith Center;
- the Director of Health & Counseling Services;
- the Director of PEER & Health Education;
- and the Student Success Analyst.

Key Opportunities and Challenges for the Senior Vice President

CONTINUE CHAPMAN'S STRONG TRAJECTORY OF STUDENT ENGAGEMENT AND SUCCESS.

The next SVPSA will join Chapman University at a moment of remarkable momentum with a deeply collaborative leadership culture. The SVPSA will have the opportunity to build upon Student Affairs' strengths and innovate in ways that elevate Chapman's exceptional trajectory by ensuring that every student continues to be known, supported, and engaged in transformational, hands-on experiences that define the Chapman ethos. The SVPSA will work closely with university partners, especially enrollment management and academic affairs, to support the entire student lifecycle, shaping a seamless and supportive experience at every stage. As a member of a leadership team that operates cohesively and interdependently, the SVPSA must demonstrate a highly collegial approach, one grounded in trust, transparency, and shared problem-solving. With success, the SVPSA will have a lasting impact on an ambitious, student-centered institution experiencing rising national visibility, impressive financial footing, and increased academic distinction and prominence.

This work requires close partnership throughout the institution to create a comprehensive Chapman experience across 11 schools and colleges, the Orange and Rinker campuses, and a wide range of student populations, including undergraduate, graduate, professional, and international learners. Strengthening and sustaining connections across the institution and ensuring all students are welcomed and experience the highest level of institutional care, which is the hallmark of a

Chapman education, are priorities. As Chapman's student population continues to evolve in the coming years, including additional out-of-state students, the SVPSA will help design and enhance resources, programs, and structures to effectively support this evolving, multifaceted community.

PROVIDE THOUGHTFUL LEADERSHIP TO ENSURE A STABLE CAMPUS ENVIRONMENT AND EXPERIENCE FOR STUDENTS.

The SVPSA will lead effectively amidst an increasingly complex student affairs landscape. The SVPSA will demonstrate exceptional judgment and work in close partnership with the executive leadership team to proactively navigate crises and maintain a safe environment for all students. The SVPSA will engage the Student Affairs organization internally, as well, to ensure prompt and efficient deployment of resources and processes as needed to address situations that arise. They will partner with students to support their success and well-being while ensuring the university's adherence to policy expectations is consistently upheld and students understand the policies and reasoning behind difficult decisions. The role requires navigating rapid information gathering and decision-making, all while working with Chapman's senior leadership team to balance safety, legal considerations, student well-being, and reputational management. By approaching these situations with steadiness and strategic clarity, the SVPSA will transform moments of complexity into opportunities for organizational learning, policy refinement, cross-team alignment, and strengthened staff and student support.

Key Opportunities and Challenges for the Senior Vice President

SUPPORT AND FURTHER CHAPMAN'S COMMITMENT TO FREE SPEECH AND CIVIL DISCOURSE.

Chapman has long championed free speech and academic freedom, and a priority of Chapman's new president is to deepen its commitment to these principles by serving as a model university for welcoming students from all different backgrounds, where numerous perspectives can be shared and challenging conversations can occur respectfully and thoughtfully. Home of the Or Initiative, Chapman provides spaces and opportunities for students to slow down and learn how to remain in dialogue with one another across differences, practicing new ways of grappling with some of the most polarizing civic and geopolitical issues of the moment. The SVPSA will play a critical role in advancing Chapman's commitment to free speech and civil discourse by collaborating with campus leaders, faculty, students, and Student Affairs colleagues to facilitate and encourage constructive dialogue and help students understand their free speech rights as well as their responsibilities as community members.

PROVIDE INNOVATIVE LEADERSHIP TO ADVANCE STUDENTS' RESIDENTIAL EXPERIENCE DURING A PERIOD OF GROWTH.

With the recent addition of the Anaheim-based 805-bed Chapman Court residence community to the University's other residential facilities, undergraduate students now spend the majority of their time at Chapman living in campus housing. The SVPSA will provide effective, strategic oversight of Residence Life, to ensure the well-being, sense of community, and strong academic outcomes among students living in campus housing as well as the optimization of all campus residential facilities. These efforts will involve partnering with Residence Life leadership as well as Chapman's Executive Vice President and Chief Operating Officer to grow occupancy and maximize housing opportunities for students. The SVPSA will ensure a strong partnership between those working in Residence Life and their colleagues in Enrollment Management to ensure a smooth housing assignment process and a seamless transition for first-year and transfer students as they enter university housing. The SVPSA will ensure that challenges and concerns that arise amongst students residing in campus housing are addressed with prompt support and assistance, in line with university policies.

Key Opportunities and Challenges for the Senior Vice President

INSPIRE AND CULTIVATE A HIGH-PERFORMING TEAM, LEVERAGING THEIR STRENGTHS AND DEEPENING THEIR IMPACT.

The SVPSA will lead a committed, mission-driven team that cares deeply about students and one another, creating a strong foundation on which to continue to build and augment an environment of excellence. The SVPSA will lead with authenticity, care, and clarity of vision, using strong communication skills to build trust and inspire the team around new strategies to best meet the needs of Chapman students and help advance university-wide goals. They will inspire and encourage the team to contribute ideas and help shape solutions, engaging them as thought partners in the work. The SVPSA will model a growth mindset, provide and encourage mentorship, and embrace opportunities to support the team's continued professional development. They will also ensure a culture that supports constructive dialogue around opportunities for growth and improvement.

An organizational shift with the recent repositioning of the Dean of Students role provides ample opportunity to refine what the team does best while adapting practices to achieve future ambitions. The SVPSA will get to know their team by listening closely, understanding individual strengths, and honoring considerable institutional knowledge. The SVPSA will also coach employees and colleagues thoughtfully through any changes in reporting lines and structures. By approaching change with transparency, trust-building, and respect for the culture that makes Chapman special, the SVPSA can effectively elevate practices and cultivate a shared sense of ownership in this next chapter of Student Affairs.

The SVPSA will also develop a strong understanding of the division's operations, build trust with the campus community, and ensure a culture of collaboration, compliance with policies, and continuous improvement to help fulfill the university's aspirations. The SVPSA will keep a pulse on students' and campus partners' needs and will regularly evaluate services through data and assessments. They will allocate resources effectively and collaborate with the VP/Dean of Students to adapt services as needed to proactively support university-wide efforts. The SVPSA will have the opportunity to champion a thoughtful, people-centered approach to systems, technological, and facilities investments, ensuring effective processes, professional compliance, and high-impact student engagement.

Qualifications & Characteristics

Chapman University seeks an experienced and collaborative strategic leader with a strong record of progressive administrative and leadership experience in student affairs.

While no one person will embody all the following, the successful SVPSA candidate will bring many of the following professional qualifications, skills, experiences, and personal qualities.

LEADERSHIP AND MANAGEMENT STYLE & PHILOSOPHY

- A record of contributing to operational innovation and excellence in a university student affairs division.
- Wisdom, impeccable judgment, and demonstrated experience with executive-level decision-making aligned with institutional priorities and values.
- Experience serving on a deeply collaborative senior leadership team characterized by a high level of trust, open communication, and shared problem-solving and decision-making.
- Proven skills as a senior leader and manager, with a demonstrated ability to support and motivate high-performing, talented teams, ensuring opportunities for collaboration, innovation, and professional growth.
- Demonstrated experience providing effective oversight of teams, budgets, and spaces; supporting clear structures and accountability; stewarding resources in alignment with Chapman's mission and priorities; and managing high-risk situations and contexts.
- Significant knowledge of current issues, trends, and best practices as well as emerging issues in the field of student affairs of which the institution should be aware of and/or preparing for.
- A strong affinity for Chapman's mission, values, and distinctive student-centered culture, and enthusiasm for contributing meaningfully to an institution that combines the intimacy of personalized education with the opportunities and complexity of a growing, nationally recognized university.

INTERPERSONAL SKILLS & COLLABORATION STYLE

- Sophisticated interpersonal skills; a commitment to wide consultation and collaboration balanced by a willingness to act decisively when consensus is elusive.
- Knowledge and experience in communicating effectively and diplomatically with students and parents, including around difficult issues.
- An effective communicator in written and verbal formats with the ability to represent and promote the university to a range of audiences, both within and outside higher education.
- Sincere engagement with students and the campus community; a strong, visible presence across campus; and the ability to connect with students in a variety of settings, including through contemporary technologies and communication platforms.
- Experience collaborating closely and effectively with various campus departments, including Enrollment Management, the Office of the Provost, the Office of the General Counsel, Event Operations, Public Safety, Athletics, and more.
- The ability to work effectively within a complex institutional environment with well-developed diplomatic skills.

Qualifications & Characteristics

TECHNICAL EXPERIENCE & ACUMEN

- Demonstrated experience in the assessment, evaluation, and development of student affairs programs, services, and facilities, with an ability to strengthen systems that support a complete undergraduate, graduate, and professional student experience and success.
- Experience overseeing multiple aspects of residential life, including related revenue models, facilities, and personnel.
- Experience overseeing the Title IX coordinator and managing anti-discrimination processes and procedures.
- Proven ability to implement and manage fair and consistent policies and procedures; demonstrated experience ensuring compliance with the laws, regulations, and policies governing a variety of university departments and functions.
- A long-standing commitment to the needs of students and an understanding of the resources required to support their intellectual engagement, physical and mental well-being, and free expression.
- A record of leveraging creativity, relationships, and resources to devise innovative solutions to complex problems.
- Extensive experience addressing crises with steadiness, discretion, responsibility, and respect for students, families, alumni, and the institution.
- A deep understanding of the principles of free speech as well as limitations on speech such as time, place, and manner restrictions and prohibitions on discriminatory speech or harassment, for example; experience working with and educating student bodies around such issues.
- An understanding of the role that the student experience plays in cultivating engaged alumni, and a dedication to supporting strategies that help current students transition into active members of the Chapman alumni community.

Location & Compensation

Located in Orange in the heart of Southern California's Orange County, Chapman University benefits from a location that combines a distinctive small-town setting with access to one of the nation's most dynamic metropolitan regions. Orange is a city of approximately 138,000 residents situated about 32 miles southeast of Los Angeles. Old Towne Orange Historic District, commonly known as the Orange Circle, is located just steps from campus and serves as the city's walkable downtown. The Orange Circle is centered around historic Plaza Park and surrounded by cafés, restaurants, boutiques, and community events. The district spans roughly one square mile and is the largest historic district listed on the National Register of Historic Places in California, with the state's second-largest concentration of historic buildings dating to the late nineteenth and early twentieth centuries.

Beyond the immediate neighborhood, Chapman is very accessible to Southern California's defining attractions, such as the beaches of Newport, Huntington, and Laguna, which are roughly 20 minutes away. Other major destinations, such as Disneyland and Angel Stadium, are about 10 minutes from the Orange campus. With approximately 277 sunny days a year, annual average daytime temperatures in the mid-70s, and convenient access to Los Angeles, San Diego, Palm Springs, and mountain communities such as Big Bear Lake, Orange County offers an appealing quality of life and a vibrant regional setting that makes Chapman an attractive place to live and work.

The anticipated salary range for this position is $300,000-$325,000, with housing available.

Applications, Inquiries, & Nominations

Chapman University has retained Isaacson, Miller, a national executive search firm, to assist in this recruitment.

Screening of complete applications will begin immediately and continue until the completion of the search process. Inquiries, nominations, referrals, and resumes/CVs with cover letters should be sent via the Isaacson, Miller website:

<https://www.imsearch.com/open-searches/chapman-university/senior-vice-president-student-affairs>.

ISAACSON, MILLER

- Lindsay Gold, Partner
- Ivan Ceballos, Managing Associate
- Quizayra Gonzalez, Senior Associate
- Julia Hochner, Managing Search Coordinator

Chapman University is an equal opportunity employer that provides equal employment opportunities to all individuals, regardless of their protected characteristics. All qualified applicants and employees are encouraged to apply and will receive consideration for employment without regard to race, color, religion, age, sex, sexual orientation, gender identity, gender expression, national origin, ancestry, citizenship status, physical disability, mental disability, medical condition, military and veteran status, marital status, pregnancy, genetic information or any other characteristic protected by state or federal law.

This document has been prepared based on the information provided by Chapman University. The material presented in this leadership profile should be relied on for informational purposes only. While every effort has been made to ensure the accuracy of this information, the original source documents and information provided by Chapman University would supersede any conflicting information in this document.

